BREMEN FLIERS LAND AT LAKE ST. AGNES IN FORD RELIEF PLANE

landed here this afternoon.

Lake St. Agnes, Quebec, April 26 (By the Canadian Press)—The three aviators who were first to make the westward cross-who were first to make the westward crossing of the Atlantic by plane today at last were free of their isolation on Greenly Island and headed toward the acclaim which the world has waited to give them.

After almost a fortnight of uncertainties, they took off this morning in the Ford relief plane from the little island which had been their refuge and which became their prison. Their history-making plane, the Bremen, was left behind, unable to take to the air from lack of skis.

The start of the relief plane piloted by Bernt Balchen was made at 7:45 a. m. Exactly an hour later it was sighted over Harrington and at 11 p. m. it was reported sighted over Natsashquan, 235 miles west of Greenly Island, the eastern terminus of the winter airmail.

New York, April 26 (AP)—Otis Skinner, actor, today was presented a gold medal for good direction on the stage by the American Academy of Arts and Letters, following a session of the academy.

The academy also voted that a medal be given to the radio announcer who has the best voice among the more than 1500 who announce daily for the broadcasting companies.

After the presentation Skinner said:

"Demoralized verbal serppings have muddled our English tongue. Even in England it has had to struggle with a number of 'dialects.'"

Secretary Wilbur will be preceded by absence from the city if participating in the funeral. One of his assistants will act for him. Secretary Davis of the War Department, or one of the assistant secretaries, also will take part.

He telephoned Dr. Simon Flexner of the institute and asked if it wasn't something that could be done. Dr. Flexner then telephoned Dr. L. Barach, New York specialist in Quebec by the New York Times and the North American News Alliance, which sponsored the flight on which Bennett was ill, and asked if the institute had any records.

THIRD RICHEST MAN IN WORLD HERE FOR $100,000 VACATION

COP CHIEF'S FAVORITE TUNE

Strains of "Tim Toolin'" accompanied by the plunk plunk of the tuneful uke of Johnny Marvin echoed in the corridors of police headquarters today when Johnny called to pay his respects to Superintendent Michael H. Crowley. Johnny is appearing this week at Loew's State Theater. It was the first time the super had heard his favorite on the uke and he had to sing.

BRINGS GREAT RETINUE WITH TITLED GUESTS

New York, April 24.—Albert Lowenstein, Belgian banker and sportsman, said to be the third richest man in the world, was here today to spend a $100,000 vacation in this country.

His party, consisting of over 25 persons, occupied eight suites on the 16 of France, costing $2500 for the passage. The same accommodations have been reserved for the banker's return on May 15.

Lowenstein brought with him two costly European automobiles, and while he is in this country he will purchase two American cars and an airplane.

The party will stop in New York for several days and then go on to Chicago. A few days stay in this city will be followed by a trip through Canada and to California.

The Lowenstein party left the son de lux of the 16 de France yesterday to occupy the third floor of the Ambassador Hotel.

Passage for Lowenstein, his wife, five titled guests, his pilot, his staff of servants, his private detective, his four secretaries, his two stenographers, his chef, his chauffeur, his masseur and his two police dogs aboard the French liner brought the cost of the trip to the $25,000 mark.

A transcription statement his secretary handed ship news reporters said: "As a Belgian it is a particular pleasure to visit this country."

2 'PHANTOM DRIVERS' ELUDE POLICE TRAPS

RACE UP BUNKER HILL TO PERIL OF SCORES

Nightly endangering the lives of hundreds of persons in Charleston, two "phantom drivers" in a stolen, high-powered automobile race over Bunker Hill, eluding every trap set to catch them, police revealed today.

State troopers on motorcycles have joined forces with the police of Division 15 in efforts to capture the pair and another trap will be set tonight.

Bunker Hill st. is the thoroughfare chosen for a race track by the two youths. Every night at 10 o'clock, in an expensive stolen car, they race over the hill, narrowly missing pedestrians and vehicles. Police have set traps for them and officers on motorcycles have pursued them unsuccessfully. They ride together in the front seat, taking turns at the wheel.

The "phantom drivers" recall the nightly drives of "Johnny" Sheehan in the same district two years ago. Sheehan eluded the police several weeks before he was captured and sent to the reformatory.

SAVES WOMAN IN PATH OF FIRE TRUCK

With fire apparatus bearing down on her, their siren screaming without avail, an aged woman was snatched from death today on Tremont st. South End, by Hyman Manevitch, 23, of Wildwood st., Dorchester.

Manevitch is a Boston American-Advertiser circulation driver and prominent in politics in Ward 14, where his home is. He is one of the youngest World War veterans, having fought overseas with the Sixth Division.

His truck was parked at Rutland and Tremont st. when, together with passengers, he saw the woman's danger as she walked across Tremont st., heedless of the siren of a bulker truck.

She was directly in the path of the apparatus, which had not changed its course, when Manevitch, leaping from his truck, reached her side and drew her back to safety. After thanking her rescuer, the woman explained that she was deaf and had no idea of her danger.

HELD WITHOUT BAIL IN POISON 'WINE' DEATH

Charged today with first degree murder in the death of Mrs. Santa Zona of Stone st., victim of cyanide of potassium poisoning, Antonio Salvetti, 33, of Endicott st., North End, was held without bail for a hearing on May 7. He pleaded not guilty.

The accused, whose wife and 20-year-old daughter only left Naples for America today, was held as a suspicious person until, upon being taken to the Zona apartment, he admitted having known her for three years.

Several weeks ago, they quarreled, he is said by police to have admitted. He also admitted having been in the habit of supplying her with wine, according to the police. It was a quart bottle of poisoned wine found at Mrs. Zona's kitchen door that caused her death.

Previous investigation had disclosed that Salvetti had access to a barrel of cyanide of potassium at the blacksmith shop of the B. & M. repair shops of Billerica.

Receipts were found in his room showing he had paid for Mrs. Zona's fur coat, police said.

In checking up on Mrs. Zona's friends, Sergeant Sullivan of Section 3, Haverhill, first learned that Salvetti moved from Margaret st. in Endicott st. on the night of her death, they said.

His denial that he knew the woman, caused further suspicion and then the receipts for the fur coat payments were found.

DRAW PLANS FOR UNION STATION

Engineers of the metropolitan planning board are now drawing up plans for the Union station which it is hoped the New Haven and Boston & Albany railroads will build to replace the two railroad stations now in use in the Back Bay. Horace Guild, secretary of the Boston St. Business Men's Association, announced at an informal luncheon of that organization in the Hotel Brunswick today.

The plans will be completed early next week.

Guild also announced that plans are being made to get the public to express their opinions in such volume that railroad officials will realize that there is a great demand for the proposed station.

HERO MEDAL FOR HUB OFFICER

It is an East Boston saying that "The Edgemoors are good coppers," a phrase borne out by the fact that one of them will tonight be honored for bravery.

In the presence of his father, who a few months ago retired from the force, and of his three brothers, who are policemen, Patrolman Daniel K. Edgemoor of the East Boston station will be awarded a medal by the Massachusetts Humane Society.

On August 13, last, Edgemoor dove into the harbor fully clothed to rescue Clara Rose, who had plunged from a wharf on Dorset st. Charles P. Curtis, former police commissioner, will make the presentation.

The present commissioner, Herbert A. Wilson, Superintendent Crowley, Captain Campbell and the full complement of the East Boston station will attend the function at 6 o'clock.

The stationmaster's father, Peter C. Edgemoor, was for 37 years a member of the harbor police. The brothers are Arthur E. Charles P. and Francis W. assigned to stations 4 and 5 and the harbor force.

Warning shoplifters and other thieves that greater severity awaits them in his session of municipal court now on, Judge Joseph Zetoli today gave Miss Dora Rose of Cambridge st., West End, a three-month suspended sentence. She was employed as a handkerchief maker in a women's wear store, evidence of which was to be seen in her green, silk stockings and other merchandise valued at $25.25.

CALLS 'SNOOPER' IN CONGRESS

Washington, April 25 (AP)—The statement was made in the House today by Representative McClinton, Democrat, Oklahoma, that one of his colleagues on the naval committee, Representative A. Platt, an attorney, Republican, Massachusetts, was the "snooper" who had given to the House the first story regarding alleged violation of McClinton's congressional franking privilege.

McClinton said he had welcomed a meeting of the naval committee to inquire into the incident and that Andrew had "contrived" him with an affidavit.

McClinton explained he understood the affidavit was that the National Council for Prevention of War had included profane literature in an envelope bearing the frank and which was sent to the House. McClinton said he had not attached any blame to McClinton.

Representative Woodruff of Michigan, also a Republican committee member, said that Andrew had not attached any blame to McClinton.

POOR FISH IS A LADY, COSTLY AS GOLD

A basoon lady in olive green—near 200 pounds over weight—brought the fisher's best fish story to Boston today.

She is the laboring fish hander at the fish pier she was just another sturgeon even though her 50 pounds made her titanic compared with the average sturgeon that loads a mere 25 pounds.

To men of foresight—this group including even a reporter—good possibilities were seen in her bulk. For does not the aristocratic anglers spring from sturgeon roes?

She acted the crew of the steam trawler Sea King $47.00 at 24 cts a pound. And then during lunch, nearly 25 pounds of roe, worth varying fortunes ranging as high as $15 a pound.

Picked and otherwise manhandled in the process of cleaning its name from the roe to cavort with its gills and fins, where it is spoken of guardedly in terms of dollars and ounces.

Dressed for society and the dining rooms of ultra-exclusive hotels it assumes the proportions of aristocracy.

Inquiries at some of the hotels elicited the following variations of replies:

"Why we don't handle it. Folks can't or won't pay the price we must charge."

Leading wholesalers revealed they are not on terms with caviar. It is slightly improved today.

Paul Whiteman On Vegetable Diet, Loses 72 Pounds

Paul Whiteman is reducing. Pausing for a moment during a rehearsal in the studio of the Metropolitan Theatre today the well-known orchestra leader admitted that he had started on a diet in St. Louis four months ago and that since that time he has lost 72 pounds. He laughingly declined to tell what his vegetable diet consisted of.

"Yes," he said, "I am now living on a diet consisting almost entirely of vegetables. I have cut out butter and sugar and now eat only one heavy meal a day, whereas in the past I always ate at least four good meals."

care and expensive, they explained. The average catch of sturgeon is small, dealers explained, and the roe is scarce, many of the catches being the male.

Which brings out the fact that the lady is lighter than the male—sturgeon speaking—the bulk of the female and the whole of the male being the comparatively obscure price of 15 to 20 cents a pound.

The lady was claimed the largest sturgeon brought to port in a score of years.

Minister Briand Better Paris, April 25 (INS)—Foreign Minister Briand, who has been seriously ill with the grippe, was slightly improved today.

Louvenstein spent $3500 on wireless message abroad ship. He was unknown in this country until two years ago, when he left to land Belgium $50,000,000 free of interest for two years to enable her to stabilize the franc, attracted wide attention. Shortly afterward he offered to lend France the same amount at only 2 per cent.

SEA HEN LAYS GOLD EGGS

The hen that laid the golden eggs is all well—or was.

In fact, she was a fish.

This 250-pound sturgeon was brought to Boston today.

Fishermen who caught her got $67.60 for her.

She will produce nearly 250 pounds of roe, from which caviar that sells for fabulous prices—up to $5 a pound—will be made.

Silly Sheppard is standing beside her.

500 PAPUANS DEVoured BY SLAYERS

London, April 25 (INS)—The harrowing details of native massacres on the island of Papua in which 500 Papuans were killed and then eaten by their cannibalistic foes were described by passengers arriving at Sydney, Australia, aboard a missionary steamer from the island, in a dispatch received today from the Australian city by the Central News.

The massacres occurred during the temporary absence of government officials.

The wholesale atrocities are believed to have been committed in reprisal for the murder of nine Goro spies by members of another tribe.

Baron Regretted to Leave the Bremen

By BARON GUNTHER VON HUENEFELD
Commander-in-Chief of the German Junkers Airplane Bremen on Her Transatlantic Flight

Written exclusively for the Hearst newspapers.

Copyright, 1928, by the United States, Canada, Great Britain, Germany, North America and India by the New York American, Inc. Copyright for the United States by the Hearst Corporation. Greenly Island, April 26—Disappointment is in our hearts today, for the dreams which we have had, Koehi, Fitzmaurice and I, of flying our beloved Bremen from Greenly Island to New York are shattered.

The coalition of the ice between our island and the Canadian mainland, however, renders it practically all hopes of flying off in our Bremen, equipped, as her undercarriage is, with wheels instead of skis.

So we decided to accept the offer of Mayor James J. Walker of New York to fly as passengers in the aeroplane which he sent to us with fuel and repair parts for our Bremen.

This decision has been reached because we realize that the public of the great city of New York is waiting for us to come there, and because we feel that we can no longer keep waiting these splendid people who have been so courteous, hospitable and kind in their interest in our Bremen.

With heavy hearts, therefore, we finally determined to leave our island, to embark in the ship which was flown here by Herl Bachman, and, in that manner, reach New York by the sea route.

There is, perhaps, a slender hope that the Bremen might be able to rise from the ice on her previous undercarriage, but this is only the lightest of hopes, and there is a possibility that she may attempt later to fly the Bremen to New York.

It is difficult, perhaps, to understand the emotions which one undergoes when one is faced with such a problem as this. Here is our splendid Junkers aeroplane, the first ever to cross the Atlantic ocean from the east to the west, and here are we, with that splendid Bremen on Greenly Island, where, for the two weeks now, we have been making unfruitful efforts to refit her for the continuation of her journey to New York, without avail.

Perhaps the worst has been, as you say in your country, "the father to the thought." Perhaps in this land of fog and blizzard one must wait until the opportunity to fly, as has been demonstrated by the delays to each aeroplane which has come through to Greenly Island from the world outside.

Our first hope, when it became definite that we were unable to leave by our Bremen, was that we should be able to sail into the air in Herl Bachman's aeroplane at dawn on Wednesday morning, but this hope was also prevented this.

The present plan, this is written, is to first at Seven Islands, then to continue to the Lake St. Agnes aviation field.

On Friday morning it would be our plan to proceed to New York, with every hope of reaching our destination that day. But these things, of course, can be nothing but the merest conjecture. One does not know, here at Greenly Island, from what direction the weather will strike its next blow, in example of which I can only refer you to the obvious fact that we have now been here for almost two weeks, weeks in which the hand of the luckless weather has played a major part in all our delays.

But we shall soon be on our way to New York, and happy in the knowledge that our journey was not made in vain, but heavy-hearted at the prospect of leaving behind us the wonderful Bremen, which has rendered such

RAPS BUSINESS FOR IGNORING SCHOLARSHIP

Business men were criticized for ignoring high scholarship as a commendable quality in college graduates seeking employment in an address today by President Kenneth G. St. John of Bowdoin College at a Chamber of Commerce luncheon.

He referred to "a popular notion that there is no direct relationship between high scholarship and the realities of life," and declared that leading educators are endeavoring to point out "the vital and close connection between high scholarship and success."

"A man in the upper tenth of his class at graduation has one chance in five of standing in the highest 10 in salary, as compared with the one chance in 52 which the man in the lowest tenth has," he said.

"Surely upon the basis of earnings it is of advantage for a student to have studied, regardless of the other advantages which a man acquires by exercising his intellectual power in youth."

"The college prepares, primarily for life, not for making a living, but it recognizes that no one can live fully or effectively unless he has learned also how to take his part in the economic life of his day."

"Let me remind you that of all our institutions none is more thoroughly American than the college. Let me remind you that it has to adapt its work, not solely to the boy who is going to be a modern business man, but to the boy who is going to be a doctor, lawyer, clergyman, engineer, writer, journalist or poet."

"You have the right to criticize the product we turn out, to point out where it falls below specifications, but you have no right to dictate to us the processes by which the product is turned out. That's our business. The true test of the worth of a college education covers not five years but 25 after graduation."

O. K. COOLIDGE 'BIG STICK' IN NICARAGUA

Washington, April 24 (INS)—The Coolidge-Kellogg policy of using a "big stick" toward unruly elements in the Pan-American republics in general and in Nicaragua in particular stood indomitable today by the Senate through its overwhelming vote of confidence.

The Senate voted four to one against the immediate withdrawal of marines from Nicaragua and twice rejected other proposals limiting the President's power to use marines in foreign countries after next February.

Efforts to restrict presidential powers were made through amendments to the 1923, 1924 and 1925 appropriation bills. In the end the bill was enacted, carrying about 15,000,000 extra for marine occupation of Nicaragua, and no restrictions were placed on the President's discretion in using the fund.

SCIENCE Once Again Changes an Old-fashioned Method to a New, Modern and Better Way for this new way of taking

Milk of Magnesia

THIS new way—this better way—of taking Milk of Magnesia has been quickly accepted by Doctors—dentists—druggists—men—women—and even little children. Manufacturers of Milk of Magnesia have known for years that the "tablet form" was the better way and Scientists have labored unceasingly for the way to make Milk of Magnesia into tablet form.

Till recently, all their efforts have been met with disappointing failure. It remained for us, our Chemists, with experiment after experiment, to discover the secret—to find the way: this new way. MILNESIA WAFERS—Pure Milk of Magnesia in Tablet form—is the better way of taking Milk of Magnesia. You will be convinced the moment that you try MILNESIA WAFERS.

First: By this better way, you simply chew or allow the wafer to melt in your mouth. Because it is so pleasant to the taste, it is not necessary to gulp it down hastily, like the old-fashioned dose.

Second: This way allows for more beneficial results to the teeth, gums, throat and alimentary tract. Slowly finding its way, it penetrates to every crevice of the mouth and throat, correcting acidity and sweetening as it goes.

Third: This way gives you an accurately measured dosage. No guessing—no measuring—no shaking—no spilling. Each tablet is Certified to contain 2 teaspoonfuls of Pure Milk of Magnesia. Each tablet also allows for breaking into 1 or 1/2-teaspoonful quantities if desired.

Fourth: This new way does away with settling—freezing—evaporation and waste.

Fifth: This new way is a new day for children. They actually like the taste. No longer will you or they have to struggle through a disagreeable dose.

Take this coupon to your druggist today. It is worth 10c

BIGELOW HAILS SOCIAL SERVICE CANCER DRIVE

One of the vital factors in intelligently and adequately meeting cancer made in social service, Dr. George H. Bigelow, commissioner of public health, declared today before the Boston Council of Social Agencies in Pilgrim Hall.

This meeting was the feature of a program throughout the State in connection with the Cancer Campaign.

The chairman of the Pilgrim Hall meeting was Robert W. Kelle, and speakers in addition to Dr. Bigelow were: Dr. John C. A. Gerster, chairman of the State cancer committee of New York; and Mrs. M. Lewis, supervisor of the out-patient social service of Massachusetts General hospital.

A motion picture, "A Fortunate Accident," was also shown, and there was a discussion of the educational value of such films.

"We must have good social service to see the community resources that we have," said Dr. Bigelow, "and to see how they can be put to use in the community to benefit the individual."

"The cancer problem is totally different from the problems involved in the control of the communicable diseases," said Dr. Gerster, "and in spite of an enormous amount of painstaking research, both statistical and experimental, many questions still remain unanswered."

"In view of the steady increase in the number of reported deaths from cancer, it is imperative that public education and research be encouraged in every possible way," Dr. Gerster outlined educational campaigns in New York, one during last November, and the other in March.

FORSYTH CASE GARAGE SEEN BY JUDGE

The cross divorce action of Mrs. Annie Forsyth and Boardman E. Forsyth, Newton marketman, which was resumed in Middlesex probate court today, was adjourned a short time later while Judge Lloyd E. Chamberlain went to Everett.

The judge said he wanted to see for himself the garage in Everett formerly conducted by the late Fred L. Lasky, who was named by Boardman in his suit. Mrs. Forsyth charges cruelty.

The garage was figured largely in the testimony, and Judge Chamberlain decided to satisfy himself as to what could be seen of the interior from the outside of the building. He was accompanied on the journey by counsel for both sides.

At the opening of the session Forsyth resumed the stand and, under questioning by his counsel testified he had discontinued marital relations with his wife before August of 1925. He said he continued to live in the same home with Mrs. Forsyth because of the children, of whom there are four, and with his father and the daughter, Mildred, with her mother.

Mrs. Mary E. Brown, an operative of a detective agency, was recalled to bring out a few facts on the trail of Lasky and Mrs. Forsyth to Ogunquit, Me., on an automobile trip.

SEVEN DRIVEN OUT BY FIRE IN SOMERVILLE

Seven persons, including five small children, were driven out by fire to day in a three-story house on Mount St. Somerville. Two alarms were sounded, but from separate blocks. Firemen confined the flames to the third floor. The fire is believed to have started there from stove sparks. Fred Conway, his wife and one child, occupants of the third floor, and Mr. and Mrs. George Chaudron and four children, on the second floor, were forced out, but Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Setton remained in their first floor apartment while firemen fought the flames above. Damage was estimated at $500.

DE VALERA HITS AT U. S. POST

Dublin, April 26 (AP)—Abolition of the Post of Free State representative at Washington was urged in the Irish Express today by Eamon De Valera, Republican leader, who said it was not worth the money it cost.

It was based on false pretenses, he said, and it would be better if the Surest ceased to have a minister who merely was part of the British Embassy. It did not deceive Americans, De Valera added.

Patrick MacMillan, minister for industry and commerce, replying to the government, denied the Irish minister at Washington was connected with the British Embassy.

HORSE LOVERS WILL FLOCK TO JACOBS HILL ON MAY 19, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

This Year's Show Confidently Is Expected to Outshine All Previous Affairs at Smart Rhode Island Club

SATURDAY, MAY 19, IS A

date to be entered in the calendar books of that enthusiastic sportsman who never misses a horse show, and considers no motor jaunt too long to undertake when a horse show is at the juncture of his end and four-footed beauties are on parade. Certain it is that many a motor will take its smooth way down toward Providence on that Saturday, the day elected by the Jacobs Hill Hunt for its annual show at Seekonk. And certain it is also that local blue ribboners may be sent on the long journey to try their ponies against what Providence and Pomfret and New York produce in the way of winning equines.

COMPARED WITH SHOWS counting their years more than a score the Jacobs Hill Hunt affair is a mere strapping. In fact, really, since its birthday do not run to more than four or five. But out of all proportion to its years is the size and the importance of the show. Last year there were 200 or more entries. This season Messrs. Carl Marshall, Benjamin Cook, Robert S. Holdrin, Jr., Wallace D. Kenyon and Bernard Newberry anticipate topping even that large entry list. Because its towering classes keenly contested are the rule with Jacobs Hill.

HIGH STEPPERS FROM Southern New England will meet sleek coated aristocrats from New York State. Messrs. Cook and Kenyon see in prospect the keenest of rivalry, especially in the competition for a leg on the Providence-Biltmore trophy for ladies hunters. In 1924 Charles Van Brunt Cushman won. Mr. Cushman is, whose splendid stables in Pomfret make that beautiful Connecticut village famous for something else than its fine old school. In 1927 Wallace D. Kenyon was a long on the trophy; 1928's award is still a matter of conjecture, a much discussed topic among those well-informed ones with regard to equine excellence.

SINCE PERMANENT POSSESSION of the trophy depends on one owner winning twice only, this year's contest will be extremely sharp. It will be Howard Turkman's echo that decides the question, since that astute horse owner and rider is to be the judge of the hunting and jumping classes. Herbert L. Camp of Mid delown, Conn., brings his knowledge of equine fine points to bear in judgment of the Pony and Saddle classes. In all there are 16 classes, ranging from the child's pony to military mounts, and includes the dashing hunt teams, the touch and go, and all the classes that make up so comprehensive and so well regulated a horse show as the Jacobs Hill polo stage.

THIS YEAR'S EVENT WILL outshine last year's, without a doubt. "Everyone" was there last year. To match the array of tankard topnotchers came an outpouring of the socially prominent horse lovers. Members of the older sets, the youngsters of the sets in early and late teens, and the younger families as exemplified by the Junior League, all adorned the scene. Certain of the small fry did themselves proud in whatever classes they appeared. There was a gorgeous array of attractively swanky set of box-holders. The Junior League fair ones seized a ripe opportunity to sell cigarettes and cooling drinks, that a pet charity might be financially bettered.

AT MIDDAY, BETWEEN THE morning's and the afternoon's classes, there was a delectable luncheon, served charmingly al fresco, beneath the wide-spread apple trees on the lawn of the club house. New England, in its every clasp and angle, is this comfortable old house, formerly the country home of the William Grosvenors, so they tell me, now center of Jacobs Hill Hunt smartness and festivity, since the Grosvenors went abroad to live in Pasadena and follow life as delightfully laid down in that exclusive community. For a hunt club house the Grosvenor residence is extremely fitting, being lavishly and unpretentious.

BOSTONIAN LOVERS OF FINE horseflesh taking luncheon beneath the apple trees on the clubhouse lawn included Reginald Bird and his ducky-eyed daughter, Miss Betty Bird; Mrs. I. Tucker Burr, Jr., who had horses entered; Mrs. Bayard Turkman, Mrs. Clarke T. Baldwin, Miss Dorothy Neyhart, Miss Ellen DeW. Jackson, the Robert B. Almy (Rosamond Adie) and Miss Mary Louise Almy, of the Providence set there were the Carl B. Marshall is the Jacobs Hill president, Miss Marion Marshall, their charming daughter, who looks so very trim and smart in riding tweeds, and Mr. Benjamin Cook, M. P. H. for Jacobs Hill.

MR. AND MRS. W. HAROLD HOFFMAN were boxholders and hosts for the day. Mrs. Hoffman was formerly Miss Ellen Fielding-Jones. Miss Kathleen Fielding-Jones, her sister, was one of the pretty Junior League bery doing yeoman service for clarity. Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Johnston brought guests to their box and entertained at luncheon on the clubhouse lawn. Little Miss Rose Merrie Flint, small daughter of Dutes Wilcox Flint, rode her pony in one of the children's classes and carried off a ribbon. Miss Ivy Meddison rode in several classes, expertly and excellently.

TENOR IN SONG RECITAL

By MOSES SMITH

Pat Hyland, tenor, gave a song recital at Jordan Hall last evening before an enthusiastic audience of good size. His program, which did not follow conventional patterns, began with three Handel songs, continued with a Schumann group, the familiar aria, "Una Furtiva Lagrime," from Donizetti's "L'Elisir d'Amore," and ended with three songs by the Italian, Sibelius.

The tenor found room, moreover, on a short program, for four Irish folk-songs, and thus indicated that he was following the lead of Mr. McCormack rather than that of his own less celebrated colleagues who appear at Jordan Hall. And there is no reason why an audience in that auditorium, as well as in the more spacious symphony hall, should not be indulged with these ballads.

No reason, we should say, except that they demand the artistry of a McCormack if they are to be effective in the concert-hall. Mr. Hyland is no McCormack, nor, to come down a few thousand paces, is he a moderately finished singer. His approach to his songs is something of a relief from the studied dignity of the average recitalist, but he was stiffer than he seemed to be, for all that. His singing on this occasion did not realize the possibilities what seemed a voice of good quality.
